LET'S KICK
OUT OF FOOTBALL RACISM

It may be hard to imagine now, but not so long ago black footballers frequently faced monkey noises and racist chants from crowds, and racial abuse from opponents.

Stuff that doesn't happen any more, right? Players from all over the world, of all colours and creeds, now play in the Premier and Football Leagues. Black players have been at the top of the game for years and the England team has had loads of black internationals.

It might have been a problem in the past, but racism's gone, and good riddance. Well, maybe...

Yes, black faces are common on the pitch, and accepted by football fans everywhere. But incidents of racism are still common too. If football is for everyone then we have to get rid of racism forever. If we work together we can really kick racism out of football.
